

February 21, 2006

Amy,

I got 5 of the pictures. I got the file name for the 6th, but no picture. It was #20. You look young in these pictures.

We got home yesterday. We stayed 2 nights in a motel south of Birmingham, Alabama, because bad weather was forecast. We avoided any problems.

In Clearwater, we visited the same spots we did last year. Nothing new except we stayed closer to the beach and ate at more of the local beach restaurants. I ate a lot of fish.

On the way home, we crossed to the northeast side of the state and visited St. Augustine. It is the oldest continually occupied European settlement in the U.S. It has an "old town" very similar to the French Quarter in New Orleans - old buildings, narrow brick streets, lots of shops and restaurants. We enjoyed wandering around, but had time to see only a small portion of it.

What is the nature of the promotion you are expecting?

Love, Dad